World Book Day

This year 'World Book Day' falls on Thursday 7th March, and we plan to link some of our class activities around this event. As part of this celebration, we have once again arranged for a book fair to take place in school at the end of each day during the week beginning Monday 18th March, where there will be an opportunity to purchase from a range of children's books. As a launch to this event, we will be holding a 'dressing up' day on Monday 18th March, where we would like the children to come to school dressed as a character from children's literature. It is always wonderful to see such a range of characters and costumes on this day! Thank you in advance for your support.
